The disclosure relates to a method and a device for transferring at least one article from an article conveyor line to an article discharge line. The invention relates to a device and a method for transferring articles in a three-dimensional manner, especially onto a pallet. The device comprises a discharge station on which articles can be transferred from a conveyor line to an article discharge line. In this context, the device has a plurality of mobile gripper devices. In the context of the present invention, the term "article" should be understood to include not only single objects, such as parts, but also a plurality of objects arranged together, for example in the form of a pallet or a box. In the article processing industry, in particular in the field of palletizing, article handling devices are known in which articles are conveyed in a three-dimensional manner onto pallets, and the articles are deposited by the palletizing unit on a pallet. Such handling devices are able to perform a transfer of at least one article from a conveyor line onto a pallet. The conveyor line and the palletizing unit can be arranged one behind the other in the direction of conveying of the article, as well as on either side of the conveyor line and/or palletizing unit. DE 20 2006 014 141 U1 describes a device for lifting and depositing articles to be conveyed onto a pallet. The device comprises a plurality of mobile gripper devices that are moved 82157476af
